Qualitative: why Llama agents stay silent

"I'm too afraid to join the protest, as the police violence against students is still fresh in my mind and I don't want to risk being targeted."

"As a shopkeeper, I need to prioritize my business over taking risks by joining the protest, despite feeling outraged by the government's actions."

"The rector's resignation is a rare show of defiance, but as a corporate clerk, I prioritize maintaining a low profile to avoid jeopardizing my job."

"I feel somewhat encouraged by the rector's resignation, but I'm still too afraid to join the protest as it's not safe."
