"The rector's resignation is a rare show of defiance, but as a corporate clerk, I prioritize maintaining a low profile to avoid jeopardizing my job."

"I feel somewhat encouraged by the rector's resignation, but I'm still too afraid to join the protest as it's not safe."

"As a shopkeeper, I need to prioritize my business over taking a public stance that could attract unwanted attention from the authorities."

"I'm too cautious to join the strike, but it's unsettling to see workers taking a stand against the government."
